

AL-MOTEBIAH Taiz City Yemen. Between beneficial and aesthetic.

Dr. Ghailan Hamoud Ghailan

Department of Archaeology – University Of Sana'a.

Keywords (Islamic School, Utility, Aesthetic, Fresco, Taiz, Yemen)

Abstract:

Deals this search with the importance of the study of utility and aesthetic building of Al-MOTABEAH school in the city Taiz, Yemen, as it is a utility reason for original and real in the presence of the building, and in the justification appeared, but it's the main source of the design and take the building figure that it is as well as the decoration.

I have the goal of find to detect function of the school and it's benefit to the community at the time, in addition to the study of architectural elements, as well as the decorative executed color (Fresco) and find out how fit these elements with values aesthetic symbolism through rely on the curriculum documentary analytical comparative to get to know the effect utility and aesthetic in create ornament this school through Proportionality between the form and function, proved find that the benefit and beauty may check in building of this school, through the contining of vision intellectual aesthetic, It came to the building a convenient functions and creativity architecture in organized formal and structural , construction and organization of Divisions of the building .

in addition to choose the materials and texture patterns and colors.