

Amulets to treat heart arrhythmia that are made of precious stones during the Indian,
Mughal age (932-1274 Hijri/1526-1858A.D.)

Dr./NagahMahdy Mohamed Moustafa

Ass.teacher in Islamic archeology department-faculty of archeology-Cairo university.

Proff.dr./Raafat Mohamed Al-Nabrawy

Ass.proff.dr./ AzzaAbd El-Moaaty

This research is about studying collection of jewelry consists of 7 pieces that are distinguished by having special style. In addition to being used as accessories, they are also used as magical amulets to expel evil and treat heart arrhythmia and protect from envy and magical spells for those who wore them.

Those amulets with the precious stones were accepted and welcomed by all countries since the beginning of humanity. It was used as accessories in the beginning, then after discovering its multiple benefits , it was used for other purposes like keeping away bad luck and bringing good luck.