Civilizations are a harmonization not clashes Pro.dr./Salem Noury

Abstract;

The pensive of each civilization that lived on the face of earth can find that it's never different from the concept of coexistence, harmony, progress, development and sweetness. Coexistence for itself and for the others. Whatever happened at the periods of wars and struggles like the crusades, first and second world war, are nothing but destroying the civilization for man ego and his injustice. We can only call those periods by inequity of the other. Civilization showed the side of elegance for such a long time, but when clashes with neighbors took place and power, ego and strength appeared, other civilization uplifted. Islam came with the concept of coexistence was so clear, where our prophet ordered that Muslims live beside the Jewish at Al-Madina and he put conditions that are good for humanity, for each one to recognize his rights, so they can live in peace, safety and security, if each one stuck to his own rights without exciting the others. If man meditates his life, he will find it between attraction and pulling, agreement and indifference, but all that don't bring wars or clashes among humans, cause if man fights for himself, he ruins his life and the life of others. Quran explains the harmonization not the indifference or clashes in what Allah told us" we created you as nations and tribes to get to know each other ". That harmony and coexistence don't come with hate and disagreement. If human civilization was different, the Arab wouldn't have lived in the west, no nation was able to exist alone and isolates it's people from the others, but everyone need the other and from here people coexist in a civilized life based on agreeing together on what's important.
