

Islamic civilization and its interaction with human civilizations

Dr Abdelhalem Nada

Research problem :

Hardly a spot on earth is devoid of problems and conflicts, whether ideological or sectarian or dogmatic conflicts or even a colonial, it has become inevitably for every lover of life and morals should that he should seek to resolve all these problems as much as possible.

The importance of the study:

Most of the conflicts that fill the globe eventually evolve into armed conflicts to achieve certain ambitions that break or divide or weaken countries.

These conflicts have to be confronted, not by counter-acting conflicts, but with the means and tools of human progress, and the publication of rooting the lofty values of human civilizations that were the reasons for understanding, tolerance and acceptance of others and abide by the rules and principles of humanitarian justice, Islamic civilization was an impressive example of those high values and principles, Islamic civilization made sure to spread those values across the globe, it cared about writing books that are filled with science and morals, and the book had an active role at that stage

Research hypothesis:

- 1- Revive the Islamic heritage and achieving positive interaction with the contemporary civilization that can realize the mutual benefit.
- 2- The possibility of deepen the concepts of peaceful living and spreading the spirit of forgiveness among people

Research aims;

- 1- Showing the role of Islamic civilization and its interaction with the other civilizations to build global society that is safe and stable and blessed with elegance and prosperity.
- 2- Highlighting the vital role of Islamic civilization in caring about creative human building as a base to build international civilization.
- 3- Demonstrating the vital role of book in transferring culture and various types of science around the globe.

Research methodology;

The research follows the analytical, inductive methodology through;

- Studying the interactive effect of Islamic civilization with the other civilizations.

- Studying the Arabic book and its effect on transferring the Islamic culture to the west.

Research plan;

It depends on 2 main axis;

- 1- The influence of Islamic civilization on the others, especially the western civilization.

The book and its clear effect in transferring the civilization with its content of science, arts and literature from one society to another.