

Role of Islamic endowment in mosques architecture and it's effect on Islamic civilization

Dr/ GaberEed Al-wenda

Manager of Kuwait association for civilized communication

Introduction'

Thanks and prayers for our prophet and those who followed his steps,

Endowment is creation of Islam which it was characterized by from other religions ,it was and still one of the most important economical and financial sources to many social and public services in Islamic countries ,yes it was known before Islam but it's use never exceeded worshipping but in Islam it included religious ,social and humanity aspects and has good effect on building the civilization of Islamic society .

The research aims to highlight the role of Islamic endowment in mosques architecture and it's effect on Islamic civilization.

And I hope this would be a good step and easy entrance to methodological studies about Islamic systems and codes and their relations with the Islamic civilization.

Summary;

Endowments has positive effect on rising up the Islamic nation especially the constructional rising as it contrib uted in building mosques the base which constructional Islamic civilization revolve around as it have other positive effects on social and economical sides of this special civilization.

In this research will find introduction to endowment concept in Islam and talk about it's role in mosques building and the effect t on Islamic civilization and it's constructional rising.

DOI:10.12816/0036920