

The Curriculum in Writing about the Andalusian Civilization A German Orientalist Sigrid Hunke.
Through a Book Shams Arabs shining in the West)

Dr / Rawya Abd EL Hamed SHafea. Assistant Professor of Islamic history and Islamic civilization of the Faculty of Arts, Department of history, Helwan University

Abstract: The book is a German Orientalist Sigrid Hunke ("Shams Arabs shines on the West ", Orientalists Westerners, which gained wide fame, few books in the writings of Sigrid Hunke especially in the Arab and Islamic worlds, has formed a new approach in her book where it would be deprived of all the capricious, which has long taken on many of the Orientalists, by virtue of its inception academic scientific and informed consent, where found scientific deficiency in the era of the Islamic civilization in the east and west in the literature bank, who they ate, dominated them either intolerance or lack of knowledge, the foundations of the assets of the contributions that civilization, has referred to that failure at the beginning of her book, when it stated that the browser 100 historical book West, does not find a Name The Arabs, and civilization in more than ninety eight working paper, the contents of those books in writing this unique author, the truth is that the book of the best /From this standpoint, initiated books about the which attests the Islamic civilization, if compared to many other literature, language and civilization and documentation and a young however now composed of Arab world man of the book of many palaces, does not pay attention to it, only to see the documents of indigenous literature, which did not depend on composed

Although the book dealing with the impact of the Islamic civilization in general, including the Andalusian civilization, which is the subject of research, in particular, and extended writing about the civilization of Andalusia in most chapters of the book, the adoption of which is composed of the references to the European Commission, shouting not much to show the original image of those of civilization which formed the life in the period of Muslims in Andalusia

For example, in the first chapters of the book, when the effect of the most important effects on the west, the language, dealt with what they reached her hands from the impact of the Arabic language in the languages, English, French, German language, the language of the original, neglecting the main language of the Spanish language, which bear the biggest and most important influence in all European languages, even by reference. It was therefore imperative to when dealing with the impact of the /underscore the thought of the methodology and sources d Andalusian civilization to the west, through this unique author